

Mac Product Key Finder

Recover lost serial numbers of your Mac apps

Mac Product Key Finder is freeware program for recovering lost product keys (or making backup before it is too late) for software installed on your Mac. This small tool will scan your Mac for installed applications and show your product keys (serial numbers). You can save this list to a file (HTML, XML, CSV, PDF and text file) or print it. Currently, list of supported software is not very big, but it includes popular software such as Microsoft Office 2008, Adobe Photoshop CS3-CS6, Parallel's Desktop, Panic applications, VMWare Fusion and many more.

At the moment, there are 2 versions of Mac Product Key Finder: Freeware and Professional versions. Pro version supports more software and has more useful features, such as "Deep scan" and network Mac scan. Below, you can see comparison table of features between freeware and Pro versions.

Worth mentioning that both Free and Pro versions will not work on apps you purchased through Mac AppStore, since they simply come without serial numbers. After you purchase Mac app through AppStore, full version will be downloaded to your computer. It actually might work for some apps (some developers may still deploy serial number with full AppStore version of their software), but not for the majority of them.

Limitations and System Requirements

Freeware version of course has no limitations, and Professional version will show you only first 4 characters of each product key found, unless unlocked.

Freeware version will work on Mac OS X 10.5 or later, Intel or PowerPC, and Professional version can even run on Tiger Mac OS X 10.4 or later, Intel or PowerPC.

Both versions do not use or require internet connection.

Extra features

Deep-scan

"Deep scan" is different approach to scan your Mac for product keys; it will scan your hard-drive for suspicious data entries, like SerialNumber, LicenseKey, SerialNo, ProductKey, etc. Even though a lot of garbage (unrelated to actual product keys) data may be found, it still should be very useful, since no matter how many apps we will add into Mac Product Key Finder, it will never support all of them, as there are millions of apps out there, and each stores its product key in different unique place.

Deep scan may find product keys which normal scan cannot, but some data may be inaccurate.

Devices scan

Mac Product Key Finder will show you your Mac OS serial number, serial numbers for your iPods, iPhones and iPads which you have connected with iTunes before.

This can be very usefull in case you'll lost or somebody stole your expensive devices to report these numbers to police.

This feature works in both Freeware and Professional versions. Pro version however, will show you a bit more info, such as IMEI.

Professional version screenshot

The screenshot shows the 'Mac Product Key Finder Pro' application window. The title bar includes the application name and standard Mac window controls. Below the title bar is a toolbar with icons for 'Save to...', 'Refresh', 'Print', 'Select HDD', and 'Scan remote', along with a search field. The main content area is a table with three columns: 'Name', 'Type', and 'Value'. The table is organized into several sections: 'Computer: MACMINI', 'Deep scan', 'Devices and Mac info', and 'Computer scan'. The 'Computer scan' section is expanded, showing a list of software products with their serial numbers. The 'Acrobat X Pro' entry is highlighted in blue. At the bottom of the window, a status bar indicates 'Selected path: current HDD - found 110 (and 117 potential) serial numbers'.
